Suppliers sought for new hospital

MELVILLE businesses can register their interest in providing furniture, fittings and equipment for the Fiona Stanley Hospital, which opens in 2014.

During the next two years, Serco, the hospital's facilities manager, will be procuring more than $350 million of assets for the facility and has encouraged local businesses to be involved.

Wanted is a wide range of products and suppliers, particularly those that offer innovative solutions that will contribute to the best possible environment for patients.

The hospital will spend more than $350 million on more than a million assets, providing an opportunity for local suppliers to take part in tendering for these assets.

Melville businesses can express interest in supplying goods and services for the project by registering online at the Tenders WA website.

Businesses that have already registered their interest in providing goods and supplies to Fiona Stanley Hospital will be retained on a register and contacted as opportunities arise.
